Watermelons are becoming almost a drug upon our market, so great is the quantity. We do not remember to have ever seen them more plentiful.

The excursion of Good Templars of this city to Clayton, on Tuesday, is represented to have been a most pleasant and enjoyable affair. The occasion was participated in by the Clayton, Selma, Smithfield, Elizabeth Church, St. Mary's, Morrisville, Hickman and Bethel Lodges.

We are requested by a correspondent in the city to call the attention to the Street Commissioner to the condition of the gutter from the pump in front of Clawson's store to Creech's corner. We know that only a reminder is necessary to cause that officer to remedy this evil.

BARBECUE AT APEX.—A grand Democratic barbecue will be given at Apex on Wednesday next, when good speakers will be in attendance. A special train will leave this city that morning at 8 o'clock—ticket for round trip 75 cents. A large crowd will be in attendance.

SICKNESS OF MAYOR SEPARK.—We regret to learn that this gentleman, who accompanied the special train to Forestville Tuesday night, was taken quite sick whilst there, having to be conveyed to his residence after his return to this city yesterday morning. His condition was much better yesterday afternoon.

AND THE CRY IS STILL "GOOD NEWS!"—Not only from every portion of Wake county do we hear good news, but from all portions of the State. Whatever of apathy may have existed has been overcome, and the good people of North Carolina have in earnest buckled on their armor and are ready for the contest on the 5th of August.

We are particularly glad to learn that the Democrats of Wake county are fully aroused to the importance of the hour, and we think we can safely, in the name of Wake county, send greeting to the other counties of the State, and can promise an honest representation from the Metropolitan county.

A HOT CHASE FOR A MAN SUPPOSED TO BE SCOTT PARTIN.—On Saturday last a man, fully coming up to the description of Scott Partin, crossed Haw River at Pace's Mill, in Chatham county, making his way towards Randolph county, and on Sunday crossed Rocky River at Siler's Mills, passing into Randolph. He traveled almost wholly in the woods, and stopped at out-of-the-way places, giving different statements whenever questioned as to who he was and where he was going. The Deputy Sheriff of Chatham and several others on Sunday started in pursuit of the man, and on Monday was in Randolph only a short distance behind him. The latest information did not report the return of the pursuers and we do not know whether or not this will prove the wife-murderer Partin.

THE WAY THE RADICALS LIE.—We furnish from the Pee Dee Herald, published at Wadesboro, the following bit of information only to show the daring effrontery with which the Radicals are lying in this campaign in order to carry out their nefarious ends:

I, W. A. Webster, do hereby certify that Sam McRae (col.) said to me of his own free will and accord, that Col. O. H. Dockery said to him the night before he left to canvass in Western North Carolina, that if the Democrats got a majority in the convention, they would make each colored man pay $600 (six hundred dollars) to his former master for his freedom, and take away the right of the colored man and poor white man to vote.

Signed, W. A. WEBSTER.

We the unsigned do hereby certify that Sam McRae is a colored man and his general veracity cannot be impeached.

Signed, B. F. LITTLE,
J. T. BRADLEY,
JAS. S. MATTHESON,
ISAAC GATELY,
T. B. BRITT.

HIS FRIENDS TURNING AGAINST HIM.—The Washington Republican thus repudiates officially Tim Lee:

The North Carolina Democrats are rejoicing over an accession to their party from the Republican ranks in the person of one Tim Lee, a defaulting ex-sheriff of Wake county, in that State. Tim's immediate grievance was his failure to get either the appointment to be postmaster at Raleigh, pension agent, or minister to Peru, for all of which places he was an applicant a few weeks ago. The truth is, the Republican party is better off without him, and the Democrats are welcome to him. He is the very personification of a "carpet-bagger" in the most reproachful Democratic acceptation of the term. He has been a hard worker in politics, but has never worked except when some selfish end was in view.

Exactly what he expects to accomplish now it is difficult to surmise, for the Democrats having denounced and "persecuted" him as a defaulter, will have no use for him after the campaign is over, and he has forfeited all claim to the respect of any other party. Surely the way of the transgressor is hard. But the worst of Tim's misfortune is that he has been indicted by the grand jury of the District of Columbia for obtaining money under false pretences. If his so-called independent friends happen to elect him to be a delegate to the Convention for the revision of the State constitution, for which he is a candidate, it might be inconvenient for him to serve them and answer the indictment at the same time. The best way is not to elect him, and thus leave him entirely free from duties to the "calls of State," which may require his presence in Washington very soon.

THE R. L. I. ANNIVERSARY.—The Raleigh Light Infantry, with a number of guests, yesterday morning went to Kittrell's to celebrate their first anniversary. We regret our inability to accompany them, and here must defer any notice of the celebration until our next issue.

A HUGE RATTLESNAKE.—On Saturday last as Mr. J. L. Stone was hunting near Black Creek, some two miles from Cary in this county, he came up with and killed a rattlesnake 4 feet 10 inches in length and possessing 17 rattles and a button. We had rather not come in contact with these little reptiles.

THE STABBING OF MR. SAMUEL MERRILL—THAT GENTLEMAN'S CONDITION MUCH IMPROVED.—The special train which left the city Tuesday night for Forestville for Mr. Samuel Merrill, containing his wife, family physician, the Mayor of the city, several members of the Board of Aldermen and some half-dozen members of the Knights of Pythias—to which order he belonged instead of the Odd Fellows, as we inadvertently stated yesterday morning—returned to this city yesterday morning bringing the wounded man to his home. We are glad to learn that his condition was found not to be as critical as it first supposed and as our special dispatches indicated. The knife of Thompson had entered Mr. Merrill's left breast, almost immediately to the left of the heart, but the plunge being from the side, the knife glanced upwards, and did not inflict, it is now hoped, a fatal wound, the condition of Mr. Merrill yesterday being much more favorable, though his physician would not pronounce him entirely out of danger. His many friends will be greatly rejoiced should he recover. Our account yesterday morning concerning the difficulty was in the main correct. Messrs Merrill and Thompson had gotten into a difficulty concerning money due the former by the latter, when words came to blows, Thompson drawing a knife on Merrill, when the latter struck him in the face. At this juncture a gentleman got between the two to stop the difficulty, when Thompson reached over the gentleman and struck Merrill in the side, inflicting the stab, though it was not known for several minutes afterwards that Mr. Merrill had been struck with a knife.

Thompson made his escape, and has not been captured up to this time. He is said to be a man of desperate character, when aroused, having been engaged in several serious affrays heretofore.

P. S.—The condition of Mr. Merrill last night was decidedly favorable, and there is now no probable fatal result. The knife in striking Mr. Merrill glanced upwards, and though it made a painful wound, severing an artery, it missed any vital point.

THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AS SEEN BY AN OUTSIDER.—A correspondent of the Mobile (Ala.) Register, referring to the re-opening of the North Carolina University, and reviewing the past history of this institution, says of it:

The tone of the University was of the highest order, centered as it was in the hearts and pride of the people, its income and endowments were always sufficient to surround the mind of the student with every facility and elegance which money could command; the libraries and halls were spacious; the groves and lawn a perfect Arcadia; and the general aspect of the place such as to make the inmate feel, like Rasselas, that the only obstacle to his happiness was the denial of the right of capricious emigration. In 1868,-'66, when the remorseless car of Reconstruction rolled over the old institutions of North Carolina, the deepest groan which came from the hearts of her people was at the sacrifice of that cherished institution, which had been the Alma Mater of her gifted men for well-nigh a hundred years. But as its antiquity was no sanctuary; the hand of the spoiler tore in malice this garland from the brow of the State that had been the first to proclaim American independence. The faculty were disbanded, the halls closed to all students, except such were willing to place themselves under the tutelage of New England pedagogues, imported for the purposes of education based upon social ideas of the late lamented Mr. Sumner. In the dark hour which followed it was feared that the glory of her past had departed, but with the dawn of better days for the South, the money changers have been driven from her temples, and this old institution will soon be ready with a new life, to enter upon her second century of usefulness and honor.

Crops in Alabama are better than at any time since the war. There was at least a five-fold increase in the average of wheat, which has been nearly all saved in good condition. The average yield is not so great as was expected, being only about ten bushels to the acre. The growth of straw was very heavy. The yield of oats is unprecedently large, particularly of the rust-proof variety. Fodder crops, millet especially which is extensively grown this year are very good. But little wheat is being sold, the farmers preferring to have it ground for the home market. The corn crop is assured and very large. Cotton, although backward. Lever gave more favorable promise. There is a visible improvement in labor since last season and far less indebtedness on pledged crops.

There were one hundred and forty-eight deaths in Baltimore last week—a reduction of forty-seven compared with the previous week, and of fifty-seven in the same week last year.

THE NATIONAL BANKS AND THE QUESTION OF STATE INVESTIGATION THEREOF.—The following correspondence between the Cashier of the Citizens' National Bank of this city and the Attorney of that Bank will be found of interest:

CITIZENS' NATIONAL BANK
of Raleigh, N. C.,
July 27, 1875.

Jno. D. Cameron, Esq.,
Editor of Daily News:

Dear Sir:—It appears to me proper, as my letter to the Secretary of State on the subject of furnishing his department with a statement of the condition of this Bank has been published in your paper, that I should further state that the position heretofore taken by me has been fortified by the opinion of the Attorney of the Bank, and by the comptroller of the currency. I enclose you the written opinion of Kemp P. Battle, Esq., Attorney for the Bank, and think it a matter of enough interest to be published. I hope you may find it convenient to give it an early insertion in your paper

Very truly,
Your obedient servant,
P. A. WILEY, Cashier.

RALEIGH, July 20, 1875.

P. A. Wiley, Esq., Cashier of Citizens National Bank of Raleigh:

Dear Sir:—I am in receipt of yours asking my opinion as to whether the Citizens National Bank of Raleigh, of which you are Cashier, is subject to the provisions of chapter 205, laws of 1874-'75, entitled, "an act to amend sections 42, 43 & 44, laws of 1871-'2, brought forward in Battle's Revisal chapter 26, sections 42, 43 & 44, in relation to insurance companies."

I am of opinion that the provisions of said act do not apply to Banks either State or National.

The act includes "every corporation doing the business of maritime, fire and life insurance, and any and all other corporations, companies and associations whatever engaged in the business of insurance of any kind, or which grants annuities, or holds property in trust, or receives money on deposit.

The act is in substitution of certain sections of chapter 199 laws of 1871-'2, section 42 of the latter applies to "every corporation doing the business of maritime fire or life insurance" section 43 includes "every corporation which insures against losses either by the perils of the sea or river, or by fire, or which insures lives or which grants annuities or holds property in trust or receives money on deposit."

If the act of 1874-'5 includes banks, then that of 1871-'2 did the same—yet for three years this claim was not made by the Secretary of State. This of itself is evidence of contemporary constructions against the claim.

It is clear according to a well received rule for the construction of statutes, that banks are not included.

It is familiar leaning that a general expression in a statute, used after a list of things or persons, must be held to mean things or persons of the same nature as those enumerated.

Now, in the legislative history of North Carolina, Banks are of vastly more importance than insurance companies. The latter are few in number not known to our own statute books until within the last thirty years. For three quarters of a century hardly a session of the General Assembly passed without special legislation respecting Banks, and in all cases they were described by their names and not by a recital of one of their functions. The General Assembly of 1874-'5, passed no less than ten different acts in regard to those institutions, and in not a single one of them are they called by any other name than banks.

It is inconceivable that the same General Assembly intended to subject these important institutions to new exactions, new burdens involving their very existence, except using that intention only by tacking them into the tail of Insurance Companies, under the general expression, or corporations that receive "money on deposit." This becomes all the more clear when we remember as said above, that this is an amendments of a similar law, which had been in the statute book for three years without being applied to banks, a fact known of course to the Legislature.

The words alleged to be descriptive of banks, "receives money on deposit," are entirely too narrow for this purpose.

Our banks do much more than receive deposits. They discount bills, lend money, issue notes, &c., in addition.

The title of the act, recited above, shows that only Insurance Companies of like nature are intended.

The provisions of the act in question are not consistent with the idea that banks were intended to be embraced

Sec. 1., directs the chief officer of the company to give "the reserve" if any, as calculated by an expert actuary." The words are applicable to insurance companies &c., but not to banks.

Sec. 3 of the act gives the Secretary of State the power, under certain circumstances, of stopping the company from doing business. It seems unreasonable to suppose that the General Assembly intend to give this extraordinary power to a single officer, which, if arbitrarily or mistakenly exercised, might spread financial ruin through the State; to an officer too, elected by the people to perform duties having no relation to banking!

The same sections gives the Secretary of State power to inspect all books, accounts and papers of the corporations. Considering with what jealousy our banks are required, by public opinion as well as commercial usage, to guard the business secrets of their customers, nothing but the most plain words can lead to the construction that the Legislature designed to throw open their customer's accounts to the inspection of this officer.

All the above reasons apply with stronger force to National than to State banks.

Section 3 provides that the Secretary of State shall approve the report of the corporations, "if upon such examination and investigation it shall appear to be doing business upon sound principles, and within the provisions of its charter, and in conformity with the laws of the State of North Carolina."

This shows that only North Carolina corporations are intended to be included. National banks are the creation of the United States government, and are amenable to its authority.

It is monstrous to suppose that the Secretary of State shall have power to close the doors of corporations entrusted with the great duty of providing a National agency under the laws of the nation.

National Banks are required to report regularly to an officer of the general government. They are subject to constant supervision and inspection by that officer, all at their own expense. The banking law then provides that "no association shall be subject to any visitorial powers other than such as are authorized" in that law, "or are vested in the courts of justice."

By no principle of construction can the general words in relation to corporations receiving deposits, inserted in a law for the regulation of insurance companies, without expressly including banks, be held to include institutions which owe their life to the laws of the Union and are liable to the strictest inspection by officers of that government.

The Court will, a fortiori, require the strongest language to induce them to hold that the General Assembly have entered in a conflict with the laws of the superior government.

If the General Assembly should, which is altogether improbable, enter in this conflict and endeavor to assume control of National Banks, as the Secretary of State claims has been done, it is clear in my opinion that such action would be unconstitutional and void. But according to a fair construction of the act it is unnecessary to discuss this question.

It would be useless as well as oppressive to the Banks, to subject them to the provisions of this law.

They are required at considerable expense and trouble to make regular reports to the comptroller of the currency, an officer presumably chosen on account of his familiarity with banking. Their reports are published in newspapers in North Carolina, likewise at the expense of the Banks. What good result could be attained by requiring regular reports to a State officer, elected by the people for the performance of duties having no relation to finance, at additional cost?

And when we note that the corporations are forbidden to do business without certificates of approval from this officer, it becomes plain that the National Banks are bound by their duties to the general government to resist such legislation even if attempted.

The Secretary of State is commendible for his zeal, but in this instance he has in my opinion misinterpreted the law, and I advise you to respectfully decline to accede to his requisitions.

Truly yours,
KEMP P. BATTLE,
Attorney for Citizens' Nat. Bank.

THIRTEEN BLACK DOGS.—[From the Troy Press.]—Last evening nineteen beef cattle came over the covered bridge from West Troy. They were in charge of two boys and four dogs—big and unclean, and one of them was yellow. The boys were armed with long sticks stolen from a lumber-pile. As the procession entered King street ten city dogs with tails aloft and ears elevated ran after the country dogs, and they halted. The ten visiting dogs were black, and three of the country dogs were black, which made exactly a baker's dozen black dogs. They kicked up an impromptu fight in about forty seconds, which alarmed the cattle, and with one accord they bowed down their heads and advanced on the quarrelsome canines. A short, quick, upward jerk of the beeve, necks, and the atmosphere was full of dogs kicking, and howling, and pawing in the air. Some came down on their backs, some on their sides, some on their heads. One dog landed on an awning and rolled off like a keg of nails, souse into a tub of water where a youth had been bathing some ice. The dog-fight was over, and each cur crawled or leaped home as best he could. Time, one minute.

STEWART IN HIS STORE.—Stewart runs his store on the detective system. Each man feels that he is under the eye of some one—that he is watched—and no one disguises the annoyance this fact gives him. I was in the store, one day, and in conversation with an employee. It was not a busy time, and all the hands seemed to be laying off. Some lounged, some leaned, one or two sat at the boxes. In a moment the scene in the store changed; all came to "attention," sharp. No one was seen—no one spoke. Each man was erect; the loungers came to their feet; there was not an idler in the store. In a moment Stewart came in from his little coupe on the curbstone. He spoke to no one, bowed to no one, seemed to recognize no one. He gave a sharp glance right and left, and went up stairs. "Did you see that glance?" said the clerk; he saw every one of us, and could tell what each one was doing." While Stewart remained not a man "laid off."—New York Letter.

Mr. James Doherty, of Petersburg, Va., constructed one of the most ingenious automaton ever seen. It is the image of an Indian, about six feet in stature, in full war equipment—bearing in one hand a hunting knife, and in the other a pistol. It is to be used as a target at Mr. Doherty's shooting gallery at the Blue Ridge Springs. It is so constructed, that when the bull's eye is struck the hand holding the knife falls, and the hand with the pistol rises and fires simultaneously.

DON'T MAKE WAR ON THE STOMACH.—If you are bilious, dyspeptic and constipated, don't make war on the stomach by successively swallowing blue pills, strong purgatives and powerful astringents. Such a procedure damages digestion and weakens the bowels, heaving stomach, liver and intestines, after the immediate effect, in condition of greater disorder than before. That complete relief which remedies of the above description signally fail to afford is obtained by using Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. And for the best of reasons. Biliousness is the result of inactivity of the liver, dyspepsia of weakness of the digestive organs, and constipation is produced by the above causes operating together. The Bitters, being a powerful stomachic, overcome indigestion by stimulating the secretion of gastric juice, relieve biliousness by promoting greater activity of the liver, and thus enable the bowels to act with renewed regularity.

TO BUSINESS MEN.
A good advertisement in a widely circulated newspaper is the best of all possible
A
salesmen. It is a salesman who never sleeps and is never weary; who goes after business early and late; who accosts the merchD ant in his store, the scholar in his study, the lawyer in his office, the lady in her home, the traveler in the car or boat;
V
a salesman who no purchaser can avoid, who can be in a thousand places at once and speak to thousands of people daily, saying to each one the best thing in the best manner. A good advertisement insures a business connection on the most permanent and independent basis, and is in a certain sense, a guarantee to the customer of fair and moderate prices. Experience has shown that the dealer, whose wares have obtained a public celebrity, is not only enabled to sell, but is forced to sell at reasonable rates, and to furnish a good article. A dealer can make no better investment than in the advertising columns of a widely circulated newspaper. Such is the opinion of a man who is known to be the largest advertiser in the United States.
E
I

LET each county vie with the other for the biggest Democratic majority.

REMEMBER that the work of the Convention must be submitted to the people for ratification. They must supervise and endorse or reject the work of their delegates.

PERFECT your county organizations. Let County Executive Committees see that every body has registered. And see that every Democrat goes to the polls.

REMEMBER all the amendments proposed by the State Constitution will be submitted to the people for ratification or rejection. If the alterations proposed to the Constitution are not acceptable, they will be rejected.

MAKE Wake county sure, the eyes of the whole State are upon it. Its ticket is a splendid one. Its candidates are doing splendid service. Let the Democrats stand up to them.

THE Republican Executive Committee daily issues from two to four thousand copies of the Constitution. They are flooding the State. Democrats, look out and work.

REMEMBER THAT THE CONVENTION IS ALREADY CALLED. You vote on the fifth day of August not to determine whether you will have a Convention, but you vote for delegates to that Convention.

REMEMBER that the work of the Convention is to be submitted to the people for their approval or rejection. The provisions of the bill require this.

If the Radicals control the Convention, they will forget this and make their work permanent.

CHAIRMEN of Township Executive Committees will be wise to be on the alert and examine all registration books. Wake county is likely to be filled with negroes from Granville and Warren, where they can be spared and thrown into Wake where they are wanted. Look out and head off the frauds.

TAX-PAYERS of Wake county, beware how you support the Radical ticket either by vote or absence. R. C. Badger is the attorney for the special tax bondholders. Judge Rodman, another candidate, pronounces these bonds valid. If they control the Convention, they will saddle you with a debt of eleven or twelve millions, which the Democratic party will not recognize. Will you add to yourselves this debt with the yearly and accrued interest?

REMEMBER that the election law requires "That when a voter is challenged at the polls upon demand of any citizen of the State it shall be the duty of the Inspectors of the Election to require said voter before being allowed to vote to prove by the oath of some other person known to the judges the fact of his residence for thirty days previous thereto in the county in which he proposes to vote."

Remember also that the election law says: "No elector shall be entitled to register or vote in any other precinct or township than the one in which he is an actual or bona fide resident on the day of election, and no certificates of registration shall be given."

THE Convention is called to benefit North Carolinians. It is their duty to send their best men to represent them.

THE CONVENTION QUESTION IN ALABAMA.

ALABAMA, like North Carolina, is in the heat of a struggle to free herself from the chains of Radical rule, and to reform or do away with a Constitution imposed when carpet-bagism was in the ascendant. It is not strange, but it is true, that Alabama finds herself opposed by the class who are most active in North Carolina. The whole army of office-holders is there, as here, in the front of the battle—a battle in which no blood is shed, but bread and butter is preserved, and hence their ardor.

We give a few extracts from the Mobile Register, to show the similarity of the position of the two States; to show how identical is the character and tactics of the opposition, and to show the influences that are at work there as well as here to create very ill-timed, ill-judged and suicidal indifference among Democrats:

It is good to learn wisdom from our enemies. If Spencer and White & Co., the enemies of the State, are against this Convention, it must be the duty and interest of white men to be for it. Who that knows the history of these men since the war can feel safe and honored under their banner? What Democrat or Conservative, what citizen who cares for the welfare of the State, and who has not made up his mind basely to desert her cause and go over to the Radicals, and who that is not a blindly prejudiced and thrice sodden ass, obeying their wiles and jumping like a puppet as they pull the wires, will risk his character as an honest man, with a thimble-full of brains in his head, on this desperate venture?

* * * * *

Can any Democrat be found, standing on his two human legs, with a man's head on his shoulders, such an idiot or craven as to allow the White and Parsons and Spencer crew to pull their wool over his eyes and lead him like an ape to do their dirty work and restore their foul dominion? If so, let the true men of the State mark him, and after he has done the base deed, and in all time to come point the finger of scorn at him and lash the traitor from the presence of all sound Democratic and Conservative association.

* * * * *

Upon the Democracy we call to rise up and put an end to this lukewarmness, while enemies without and traitors within are imperilling a cause that has cost so much of labor and mental torture, and has really sent many a good man to his grave, with brains overtaxed with anxiety.

THE question is not whether we shall have a Convention or not; it is, who shall represent us? Remember this.

WHO ARE THE ARISTOCRATS?

It has been left to one who, by lineage, education and social position might naturally be looked upon to defend the truest interests of society, to turn against them, and to attempt to drag down in one undistinguishable mass of ruin, all that men hold precious and venerable. What is the aristocracy which Mr. Badger assaults so venomously? Viewed abstractly, it is nothing more than success in life. Success begets comforts, and surrounds men with those evidences of prosperity which through all time, have been the aim of all mankind. This has been the main-spring of all civilization—the spur to all improvement. The hope of bettering condition is the universal impulse of mankind. To enjoy the fruits of that improvement, the natural and laudable end of all honorable toil.

Let any man go through the ranks of successful men, and analyze their social position, and how few will be found that have not reached their envied happiness by their own toil? How few have inherited wealth, and how few are indebted to others for their blessings! We will venture to say that nine-tenths of the merchants in the city of Raleigh, and in every other town in North Carolina came from the country farmers' sons, poor in purse, but rich in energy and integrity. The pulpit, the bar and the medical profession are annually recruited from the country in the same way, and thus are identity of interest and a community of feeling preserved between the town and the country, only to be disturbed by such demagogism as that of R. C. Badger who would make success a crime, and respectablity a reproach, who would stifle all energy and banish all hope, who would keep the farmer to his plough and the mechanic to his tools, lest by any chance he should prosper in the world, better his condition, and become an aristocrat!—for this he will be in Dick Badger's estimation.

In the French Revolution, the wretched rabble were proud of the title of Sans Culottes (without breeches.) Does Dick Badger hope to ingratiate himself with the sturdy, honest, hopeful and ambitious farmers of North Carolina by likening them in sentiment to the breechless, blood-thirsty mob of France, whose natural instincts were aimed against all good, and whose hate was levelled at an aristocracy whose prosperity they could never emulate except by its destruction, and whose virtue were set before them as unattainable models of perfection?

But Mr. Badger, the people are not fools, and though they know you have degraded yourself by your assaults upon virtue and respectability, which is the end and reward of all honest exertion, they do not believe that you are honest in your attacks upon what you ought to uphold. They are sharp enough to see that you think them fools, while they have their own estimate of your own intellectual status.

SKIES BRIGHT.

The game of brag is the policy of the Republican party and they make voiciferous use of their lungs. Their leaders gather courage by crowding together like sheep in a thunder storm. From the rooms of the radical central committee, filled with the faithful from all parts of the State, and representing all the classes of office-holders, go forth daily the most confident bulletins of Republican gains, and Democratic losses. "To lie like a bulletin" was a proverbial phrase three quarters of a century ago, and the bulletin in the hands of a radical committee is not more innocent or truthful than in the hands of the chief of romancers, Napoleon the first.

The truth is that the Republicans only keep their courage up by loud whistling. They are obliged to give it up. They feel the sceptre departing from them. Their occupation will soon be gone. They will be assigned back seats for all time after the Sixth of August, and they are not to be blamed if they are reluctant to stand back.

All that is needed for the Democrats to carry every thing before them in sweeping victory is to keep up the same hope and courage that now animates them. The apathy which attaches always to questions apparently abstract is rapidly passing away. Men are aroused to the realization of the fact that constitutional reform is no abstract questions. It comes home with practical application to every interest, social, commercial, and political. Men have now to contend, and that for the last time, for all they most value; for the uncontrolled education of their children, the purity of their race, the preservation of their property, the integrity of their laws.

Are not the people awake to these issues? They are, and we tell all our friends who are wont to doubt and to despond to take courage from the accounts from all parts of the State. Right here in Wake, the people are aroused, and there can scarcely be a doubt that the Democratic ticket will go through by a heavy majority. Chatham is more than right. The opposition will scarcely make a respectable show. Cumberland will seal its fidelity to Democratic principles by rebuking emphatically the wrong doers who try to mislead her.

These have all been considered doubtful counties, and in the first calculations were conceded to the Republicans. If they are on our side, what have we to fear? And from the West, the accounts are almost uniformly bright. A gain in Wilkes, Yadkin, Henderson and Rutherford, and a member in Buncombe, will counterbalance a possible loss in Mitchell and Madison.

It is certain, it is beyond the shadow of a doubt, that if the Democrats hold up to their present position, they will have a most decided majority in the Convention. But they must not cease to work till the last rays of the declining sun of the day of election shall gild their banners with the light of victory.

The Hillsboro District Conference of the M. E. Church South—Interesting Proceedings—Pittsboro.

PITTSBORO, N. C., July 27th—The Hillsboro District Conference of the M. E. Church South convened in this place on the 22nd inst., lasting three days. Your correspondent was present and will give a brief account of the business transacted and impressions made upon him by the good people of this hospitable town.

Pittsboro, the county seat of Chatham, about 10 miles from Lockville, on the R. & A. A. R. R. We would suppose it contains about 1,000 inhabitants, and for refinement and literary culture it is unsurpassed by any town of similar importance in the State.

The Conference was opened on Thursday A. M. by the Presiding Elder, Rev. L. L. Hendren, who in a solemn and impressive manner discoursed upon the importance of these delegates then assembled, and gave prominence to the two principal instruments in the hands of God for promoting the cause of true Christianity, viz., the spirituality to the Church and its financial interests. We never saw a Conference adjust itself more expeditiously to the work before them or more harmoniously deliberate upon the various subjects presented for their consideration. Reports were made from all the pastoral charges in the district, and it was encouraging to find that the spiritual condition of Methodism was good and that such advancement had been made in every section within the bounds of this Conference. The sabbath school interest is on the increase and great good has been accomplished in the noble work. Take care of the children and the church can take care of itself.

The missionary collections are in advance of the season of the year, and it is believed this will be the banner District this, as it was last year, in regard to the amount of money raised for missionary purpose.

The preaching on the occasion was more than usually good at such meetings, and the services seemed to be enjoyed by the citizens of Pittsboro of all creeds. Rev. T. J. Gattis preached the opening sermon on Thursday night to a large and appreciative audience. This appointment should have been filled by Rev. J. J. Renn, of Durham, but he was confined to his bed by sickness and could not be present. His substitute, however, fully met the expectations of his friends, and gave a well prepared and able sermon on the office of the Holy Ghost. Rev. H. P. Cole, of the Hillsboro station, preached at 11 o'clock on Friday to a crowded house. His subject was the Christian race and he presented in an able manner the parallel between the Olympic and the Christian race for the great beyond. Rev. Jno. Tillett preached an earnest sermon Friday night on the great importance of Church discipline, and showed that no church could prosper which allowed those who walk disorderly to remain members. Rev. W. H. Bobbitt, of Greensboro, occupied the pulpit at 11 a. m. Saturday, and his sermon on the reasons why we should love Christ was enjoyed by the large congregation which was present at this service. Rev. R. H. Webb, of the Alamance Circuit, preached on Saturday night upon Elijah's triumph over the Priests of Baal, where the fire came down from heaven and consumed his sacrifice. He is an eminent preacher and has a very impressive style.

Rev. Dr. Craven, of Trinity College, occupied the pulpit of the Methodist Church at 11 o'clock Saturday morning, and well did he sustain his reputation for ability and soundness of doctrine. He gave us a most instructive dissertation upon the true christian man. We regret that time forbids that more should be said of this admirable discourse, but we can only mention the subjects and passon. Rev. T. J. Gattis preached at the Presbyterian Church to a highly appreciative audience on Sunday, and his audience was highly pleased.

Three good speeches were delivered at the Sunday-school mass meeting at 3 p. m., by Revs. W. H. Bobbitt, H. P. Cole and G. A. Yates. We regretted to learn that the Sunday-school interest in Pittsboro, in at least two of the churches, viz: Methodist and Presbyterian, were on the decline, and hope these addresses may stir them up to good works and renewed efforts in the future.

At night the Rev. G. A. Yates, Presiding Elder of the Newberne District, preached an able sermon from the text, "He that knoweth to do good and doeth it not to him it is sin." He is an effective and eloquent preacher, and this effort did him and the church great credit. Rev. J. R. Martin, who has served this people for many years, was present, and though in bad health, aided by his presence and often by his counsel.

Thus was closed one of the most interesting meetings your correspondent ever attended, and long will the kindness and hospitality of the citizens of Pittsboro be remembered. The usual resolutions of thanks were passed with a rising vote, and never was a vote given with a heartier good will, for surely did people ever merit the appreciation they received at the hands of this Conference more. A resolution was also passed unanimously returning thanks to the Presiding Elder for the ability and courtesy with which he had conducted the deliberations of the body. The universal opinion of representatives from all parts of the District is that as a Presiding officer he is a success, and he is greatly esteemed throughout his work, for urbanity and affability of manner, uniform courtesy, and ability displayed, in presiding over the business meetings of the Church. To the Presbyterians was the Conference indebted for instrumental music and it was duly appreciated.

The following delegates were elected to represent their district at the next Annual Conference which meets at Wilmington the 2nd day December; Col. J. C. Pinnix, Yanceyville, James Southgate, Hillsboro, Alex Walker, Durham, Luther Bynum, Pittsboro, with S. S. Webb, Oaks, Orange county, as alternate.—The next Conference for this District will meet at Chapel Hill. S.

A Dastardly Attempt to Wreck a Train.

The Charlotte Observer of Tuesday gives the following account of an attempt to wreck a passenger train on the Air-Line Railroad:

"Quite a serious accident occurred on the Air-Line Railroad, a short time before daylight on Sunday morning, a mile and half north of Central, to the southward bound train. This train had left Charlotte on Saturday night, about two hours behind time, having waited for the North Carolina train, which had been delayed by the ditching of a freight train, and was still an hour behind time when the accident occurred. While running at a pretty rapid rate through a small cut, the engine struck a piece of wood lying across the track, one end of it fastened under one rail, while the other end was lying across the opposite rail. The engine, the "R. Y. McAden, No 8," was ditched and very badly wrecked. The tender was thrown off and placed in right angles with the track; the express car ran up over the tender and one end of it was thrown up the side of the cut.

Mr. Dick Chatham, the engineer, was very considerably hurt, having had several gashes cut in his face and head. Some of these were as deep as the flesh and reached the bone. He was taken care of and will soon be over the hurt. The fireman was slightly bruised, but beyond these two no one else on the train was injured. The escape of the express messenger from serious injury seems almost miraculous.

"In going from the scene of the accident to Central, for assistance, two other obstructions were found on the track, within a mile of the wreck. Just at the time of the accident, some of the passengers saw two men running through the woods, and they were no doubt the villains who to gratify some spite, had perilled the lives of a whole train load of people."

DEATH OF COL. GEO. W. BOLLING.—A Petersburg (Va.) dispatch, under date of Monday, says: "Col. George W. Bolling died this evening after a brief illness of bilious dysentery. It was not until 2 o'clock that any serious apprehensions were felt as to his recovery. The deceased graduated at Princeton in 1827; for many years practiced law with success; before the war he was a member of the Common Council of this city; was a warm supporter of Douglas in 1860, and in 1867 represented this district in the Senate of Virginia. His death was so sudden and unexpected as to shock the community, and very general sorrow is felt in the city. Col. Bolling was sixty-nine years of age."

Hon. Jefferson Davis has declined the offer of the Presidency of Bryan, Texas, Agricultural College, with a salary of $4,000 a year and a furnished house.

NORTH CAROLINA

The Democrats of Sampson county are fearful of the result on the 6th of August. That county will send both of Messrs. [illegible] and Kerby to Raleigh next September.

The Hillsboro Recorder says that business is dull in that place beyond precedent, but it hopes the good crops of this year will cause a general pick up this fall.

Mr. Edward[illegible], a native of Ireland, but recently from Baltimore, was killed early Monday morning at the Catawba House on Water Street, Lexington.

Dr. Richard C. Parish, formerly of Orange county, died in Tuscaloosa, Ala., on the 21st inst., of typhoid fever. He was in the 22nd year of his age.

The Oxford Torchlight flaunts at its masthead both the Republican and Democratic nominees of Granville county. "Under which King," Bezaleel? "Are you for white or black?"

Mrs. Stonewall Jackson is at present at the Catawba White Sulpher Springs. We are pleased to learn that these Springs are so well patronized this season, Dr. Elliott's capacity being almost fully tested.

The Centennial Gas Light Company in Charlotte is rapidly getting in good working order. It will be enabled to give a brilliant gas light display at the next Centennial celebration.

Says the Hillsboro Recorder: "Besides the closing of the telegraph office at this place we notice that the wires near the depot is severed, thus cutting off all communication between the east and the west. Must this be so? There will be active use for the wire next week."

Mr. F. I. Osborne and Miss Mary Lowrey, of Charlotte, were thrown from a buggy Monday evening, the horses having become frightened which caused them to run away.—Miss Dewey was only slightly hurt, but Mr. Osborne having his foot caught in the reins was dragged some distance and hurt quite severely.

The Wilmington Journal says that in all that section the corn crop promises an unprecedented yield, and throughout the South the corn crop the present year bids fair to be the best since the war, and as good as any within the recollection of the very oldest planter. Cotton is also very promising in every section of North Carolina.

The nomination by the Conservatives of Martin of that favorite and chief among the Primitive Baptists, Elder C. B Hassell, doubtless makes sure of one of the closest counties in the State. Elder Hassell's ability will be influential in the Convention, says the Wilmington Star

ADDRESS OF THE EXECUTIVE DEMOCRATIC CENTRAL COMMITTEE TO THE PEOPLE OF NORTH CAROLINA.

ROOMS OF THE DEMOCRATIC CONSERVATIVE CENT'L EX. COM.,
RALEIGH, June 1st, '75.

To the People of North Carolina:

The General Assembly at its recent session called a Convention of the people to meet at Raleigh on the 6th day of September next for the purpose of suggesting such alterations in our organic law as may be deemed wise and expedient.

NECESSITY FOR CHANGE.

The necessity for changing many of the provisions of the existing Constitution is generally admitted and is too apparent to require extended argument. It is true that some of our prominent men at one time opposed the call for a convention; but their action was based on prudential consideration, and not on an indisposition to have the Constitution thoroughly revised. They feared that our purpose in seeking to reform our Fundamental Law, might be misconstrued by the violent and ill-informed men then controlling Congress, and the prosperity of our people checked, and the peace of the State jeopardized by some harsh and unconstitutional action on the part of the United States authorities. That fear no longer exists. We now have every assurance that the Constitution of the United States will be observed by the officers of the Government, and feel a satisfaction in announcing to you that the time has at last arrived when the officials at Washington City concede that the people of North Carolina have the same right to manage their local concerns which the citizens of other States enjoy. We can proceed without apprehension to perfect our Constitution and remodel it in the interests of our people.

THE CONSTITUTION, THE CREATURE OF MILITARY LAW.

This Constitution, the creature of Military dictation, was born in the throes of a Military reconstruction. Its authors were mainly Sciolists and adventurers who had lived among us without preferment, or possessed of qualifications entitling them to it; others were our recent slaves, who had known no law save the will of their masters, and others still were carpet baggers, both black and white—actuated in feeling and Political Education—who sought positions here that were denied them where known—to despoil and humiliate us. And when their work was submitted to the people at the polls, thousands of our best citizens were deprived of the right of voting upon it, and over eighty thousand ignorant negroes were given a ballot to secure its adoption. It is no exaggeration to say that not one person in ten who voted for it could read the instrument, and not one in fifty had read it or was even moderately familiar with its provisions, and many gave it their support believing it would be merely temporary, and to escape further agitation and revolution. It is natural therefore that a Constitution thus formed and adopted should be full of undesirable and odious features, and that in a time of high party excitement. In that disconsolate time Judge Gaston used the following language: "The Sacred Legislature had indeed no authority to impose an oath upon the members of the Convention, but the people had ratified by act of the Legislature by chosen delegates under it. We transcend the limits or recede obedient to the conditions therein prescribed we are not the Convention called by the people, but a self constituted body;" these views were concurred in by Macon, Edwards, Morehead, and others. We will dismiss the subject, however, by calling attention to the able work of Judge Jackson on "Constitutional Conventions," where, by argument and the cases cited by him in relation to this matter, he demonstrated that Conventions are bound to obey the restrictions imposed by the Legislature in the Act calling the Convention.

AID FROM REPUBLICANS.

In our last election it was gratifying to see Republicans who had hitherto submitted to the control of misrepresentations leaders enter a manly protest against the misguided belief that they were promoting the general welfare, seeing their geographical sections demonstrated by the "Credit Mobilier revelations," "Southern Outrages" and other frauds and defalcations, and their vindictive and relentless policy, whereby they sought to degrade the superior race by this iniquitous "Civil Rights Bill," overcome their party prejudices and give us their cordial support. To them we extend an invitation to remain and continue the work so auspiciously begun. To the sad who oppose us under the delusion of their leaders, who assured them this bill would never pass Congress and if it did would be vetoed by the President, though it now has his signature; and who have witnessed the earnestness with which the dangerous "Force Bill" was forced through Congress, we say no longer remain where there is neither safety nor honor to a North Carolinian. The battle for civil liberty is not yet over. "Civil Rights" is still a part of the secret carpet bag programme for the State; though riven from the halls of Congress, it will be renewed in the Southern States. We therefore invite their co-operation. The Convention owes its final success to the support of some of the ablest representatives in the General Assembly and they are doubtless aware that the wise provisions introduced into the Convention of 1865 by their ablest native representatives were defeated by a party bound by that same element that has brought ruin upon their party and confusion to our State.

NECESSITY OF ORGANIZATION.

The friends of convention should at once perfect their organization and bring out their best men in every county in the State. The leaders of the Republican party know that by their reckless violations of the constitution and efforts to centralize all power in the hands of the Federal Government they have justly forfeited the confidence and support of the people. They therefore trust not to their own strength but to our apathy, and will endeavor to secure our defeat by divisions and false issues. We therefore respectfully invite their attention to the following resolution adopted and successfully followed in our last campaign:

Resolved, That we earnestly recommend to the members of the Democratic Conservative party to discourage independent candidates and all other disorganizers, that all support be promptly withdrawn from every aspirant for office who shall oppose the regular nominees of the Conventions. Let your primary county Conventions be duly advertised and see that the people have a full opportunity of attending and expressing their wishes. The motion to impose an oath upon the members of the

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

Effect of the Duncan, Sherman & Co. Failure in England—Mills Closed—Trial of the Coolies.

LONDON, July 28.—The suspension of Duncan, Sherman & Co. has no appreciable effect on the general market here.

Thirty-one mills closed at Dundee and twelve thousand persons are out of employment. Both employers and operatives have held meetings and resolved not to yield. If Oldham strikes should extend to all mills in that district, thirty thousand persons will be out of employment.

The trial of Alexander and William Coolie, of the late firm of Alexander Coo ie & Co., on the charge of obtaining money under fal e pretences, was began at Guildhall this morning, but upon conclusion of today's proceedings, was adjourned for a week.

Drexel, Morgan & Co on Duncan, Sherman & Co.

NEW YORK, July 29.—To a Herald reporter, Drexel, Morgan & Co. say: It has been known that Duncan, Sherman & Co. have been largely engaged in cotton transactions, their agent in London being Mr. Kitchen of Collie & Co., who placed all cotton shipped by the firm making his sales of cotton to arrive to spinners in England and on the continent. Within the last four weeks cotton has fallen about three cents per lb. Now supposing that they had twenty-five thousand bales in transitu, not a large amount for them, but for a heavy amount for other firms, their loss would be about 375,000 dollars. Certainly not enough to send them under, but we hear that they are also largely interested in Mobile & Ohio, Atlantic and Great Western and slightly in Erie. It is stated that among the heaviest losses is the Mexican consul at this port where individual and consulate friends were on deposit with the suspended firm.

The Duncan-Sherman Failure.

NEW YORK, July 28.—Wm. Butler Duncan says out of regard for persons now abroad who have Duncan, Sherman & Co.'s letters of credit, we assure all friends of such parties that every arrangement has already been made to prevent them from experiencing any trouble. They are all right; neither they nor their friends have any occasion to borrow trouble. They are in such a situation that they can move hither and thither precisely the same as if nothing had happened to us.

The Spanish Colonies to have Representation.

MADRID, July 28.—It is decided that the colonies shall be governed by special laws and have representation in the Cortez. The colonial elections are to be regulated by a special system, which will be enacted at the proper time.

Closing of English Mills—Operatives Ousted.

LONDON, July 29.—Fifty mills closed in Ashton. Eight thousand operatives ousted.

Miscellaneous Items.

A Louisville dispatch says that 23 grains of arsnic were found in the stomach of Jackson, the Revenue defaulter.

A New York dispatch says that on Monday last Mrs. Sarah M. G. Sherman, widow, and Wm. Butler Duncan, of the firm of Duncan, Sherman & Co., made transfer of real estate in that city to the amount of $350,000.

NOON DISPATCHES.

The Shipping Bill Before the English Parliament.

LONDON, July 28.—In the House of Commons to-day Sir Charles Adderly, the President of the Board of Trade, introduced a bill to further empower the Board of Trade to prevent unseaworthy vessels from sailing. In presenting the measure he stated that Plimsoll's bill was not acceptable to the government because it was based on wrong principles, and because, besides punishing offenders it actually takes upon itself the control of the marine service. The act of 1872 had been found to work well, as under it 958 vessels had been stopped, 575 of which had been found unseaworthy.

The bill was discussed at some length, when it finally passed its first reading and its second reading fixed for Friday.

The Syndicate—Yellow Fever at Pensacola.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—The Syndicate has the option till Nov. 15th to take remaining forty eight and a half million five per cent loan under the refunding act. Bristow has called $14, 897,200, five twenty bonds. The interest ceases 28th of Oct. This call includes all outstanding bonds issued under the act of Feb'y 25, 762. Commodore Cooper reports no cases of yellow fever at the Navy Yard or in the villages in the vicinity; five deaths at the Barrancas—Dr. Sternburg is down. No new cases from Fort Pickens post within 36 hours.

Ex-chief clerk Avery was arrested on a warrant from St. Louis and released on five thousand dollars bail.

Burning of a Cotton Mill.

GLASGOW, July 28.—The Grouts cotton mills of this city have been burned. Several girls and two firemen were severely burned. Three hundred employees effected their escape with much difficulty. The loss is half a million.
